GORTCHACOW.

"The following letter, also in my possession, will show how deep-seated was the interest felt by the Russians at that critical moment in the preservation of the American Union:

"CZARSKO SALO, June 15, 1862. "Dear Mr. Clay.—I made an effort of friend-ship to reply to your confidential letter of yes-terday. Suffering with a very violent attack of "The Emperor was well satisfied with your discourse, and with that of Mr. Cameron. In his response his Majesty has expressed to you his lively, profound and unalterable sympathies for the American Union, and the earnest desires which he conceives for the near end of the intestine war which divides you to-day, and for a reconciliation which would restore the Union to

"The idea of Mr. J. Fenner Lee to say that we do not ask any favors of Russia is ludicrous," continued Colonel De Arnaud 'as I have stated that it is true the United States asks no favors from any nation; but at the same time I doubt whether the American people are so ungrateful as to forget the one true friend it had in time of need, where friendship was sought by the United States. I am certain that the Democratic government, as well as the present Republican government, never entertained the idea of such feelings as Mr. J. Fenner Lee expressed to you. But Mr. Lee, you must remember, was a Southern sympathizer during the late war. He was a Maryland man and a confederate. It is not strange, therefore, that he should, even at this time and in his present position, remember that Russia was at least in sympathy with the federal government during the war, and therefore antagonistic to his personal feelings and interests. His feel-ings against Russia should not, however, enetrate his office in the Department of PERRY S. HEATH.

PENSIONERS NOT PAUPERS.

A Keen Rebuke to a Democratic Organ Which Insults Soldiers. Milwaukee Sentinel.

Our able but unamiable Democratic contemporary, the New York Commercial Advertiser, makes a serious, but perhaps willful mistake, when it says that veteran soldiers who draw pensions are "living on the township." It says: "We use the words advisedly. The pensions of the veterans are drawn from the earnings of the people quite as much as the money which goes to support our local almshouses or to furnish out-door relief." This in no way makes the pensioner a pauper, any more than the employe of the government, who draws his salary for services performed from the same source, is made a pauper—any more than a member of Congress or anybody who draws money from the government is made a pauper. This is a term that cannot be applied with justice to veterans. Its customary use restricts it to those who have no other claim to public that their common humanity. The veterans have something more.

It has been the distinct purpose of the government to make whatever reparation is practicable for the injuries received by those whom it called into its service. If the government were a private corporation it could be held to damages under the prin-ciple generally applied when the employes of corporations are injured in the discharge of duties and without carelessness on their part. It has never been the idea of lawmakers that indigence should be essential to establish a claim for pension, and there is nothing to justify the term of pauper as applied to men whose claims have been al-

Nothing is gained by any such slur on the conorable men whose wounds, received in the service of their country, have necessitated expenses they would not have had if they had remained at home and have, in many cases, untitted them for the successful lives they might have had but for their wounds. The mischievousness of such insults as this Democratic journal flings.

It is an amplified in the second degree. He was tried for the killing of Richard A. Sisco, aged twenty-three and married, in a saloon-fight, on the night of Aug. 5. He was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary.

Minor Notes. goes deep. It is as much as to say to the men of this country that if ever they re-spond to the call of their Nation in time of danger, they have the prospect of giving up years of valuable time for $13 a month, and if they are wounded so as to justify them in an application for pension they become panpers and "live on the town-ship:" that if they are killed their widows will be supported as paupers, the same as the inmates of the poor-house. The Nation owes every soldier disabled in the line of his duty more than it can ever pay-for hours of suffering, lost years and an added burden in the struggle of life.

But It's Not a Municipality.

Memphis Avalanche There are hundreds of cities all over the United States which are not only pro-gressive, but neat and clean at the same time. All of them are controlled either by one party or the other. Memphis is the only mugwumpian municipality in the country, and it is the worst governed.

INDIANA.

Big Row Between the Commissioners and Auditor of Tippecanoe County. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LAFAYETTE, Oct. 20 .- Lafayette is all stirred up. Friday Judge Langdon declared vacant the office of trustee for this township, throwing out James W. Conine, Republican, because he could not give a new bond. Saturday the Republican Board of Commissioners appointed George A. Harrison, Republican, to fill the vacancy. Later, Thomas J. Barnes, the auditor, who is a Democrat, appointed Walter J. Ball, Democrat, to the place. The law requires the auditor to approve the trustee's bond. Barnes approved that of Ball, rejected that of Harrison, swore Ball in, and gave him an order for Conine's books. The latter refused to give the books to either party. That is the present situation. Both sides are determined to have the office, each wanting it as a reward for party service. The Republicans claim the right of the Commissioners to appoint a trustee, under a decision of the Supreme Court reported in the 114th Indiana, while the Demogratis are relying strictly upon Sec. the Democrats are relying strictly upon Section 5996 of the Revised Statutes, which says the commissioners may make the appointment "in term time," while the auditor makes the appointment in vacation. The commissioners met in special or called session, and it is claimed this is not a term time. The officer serves only until August

Has a Peculiar History. CORYDON, Oct. 20 .- Wake Evens, of this county, has somewhat of a remarkable history. He joined the United States army several years ago, and was with General Custer at that terrible Indian massacre, being one of the few who escaped the vengeance of the red man. His relatives heard nothing of his whereabouts for two or three years after the downfall of Custer's army. when his brothers wrote to some army officer concerning him, and received informa-tion that the andden fright of the battle had produced violent insanity, and that he had been placed in an insane hospital at Washington city. He was immediately brought to this county, where he remained in a deranged state of mind until he mysteriously disappeared, about eight years ago. No knowledge could be had of him, though proper inquiry was made, until a few days ago he returned to his relatives, with his mental condition slightly improved, but was decently clothed and had some money with him. As the people thought that his mind had not recovered sufficiently to battle with the world in the great struggle of life, they wonder that he fared so sumptuously with the rest of mankind. It is said that he positively refuses, or is unable, to tell Where he has been these long eight years.

Jan. 14, 1819, he was married to his present wife. In 1826 they ried to his present wife. In 1826 they moved to the then small town of Indianapolis, where they lived until 1840, when they came to this county. For several years past the aged pair have lived with their son, John T. Long, one of the commissioners of this county, and are enjoying ex-cellent health for people of their years.

MUNCIE, Oct. 20 .- At an early hour this morning, with the assistance of a ladder, two burglars entered the home of John P. Weisse, who resides over his saloon, and boldly went into his sleeping apartments, where they made him lie still, while they relieved him of $160, which was in his pants pocket, besides taking a gold watch and a fine sealskin saque from his son John A., who oc-cupies a part of the same building. The burglars made good their escape.

Family Dispute Ends in the Saicide of Wealthy Farmer at Aurora. Special to the Indianapolis Journal

AURORA, Oct. 20 .-- Mr. H. F. Parker, a well-known farmer living southeast of the city, committed suicide, about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, by shooting himself in the head with a rifle. Deceased was part owner of a farm adjoining the city limits which Senator Evans and other capitalists desired to buy, it being their purpose to locate a manufacturing plant thereon. Parker was anxious to sell, but his married son, who lived with him, opposed the project. Saturday afternoon Parker came to the city and signed an agreement to sell the farm of 105 acres for $21,000 to Senator Evans. He then went home and a dispute ensued, the result of which was the act of self-destruction. Deputy Coroner Murphy went out with a jury and held an inquest, last night, the verdict harmonizing with the facts stated above.

BOOMERS RETURN. Oklahoma Settlers Driven Out by Cold Weather.

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph The winds of Oklahoma are blowing through the tentlets, and hundreds of boomers are nurrying back to their homes.

A party of deeply-disgusted travelers passed through the city this morning, en route from the newly-opened Territory to their homes in the East, having with them all their belongings. They say that, while some settlers have secured valuable holdings, and made some money in the new land, the vast majority of those who went there with such bright anticipations are worse off than when they reached there. The cost of living is at the top notch of prices, and there is comparatively little work to be had. The houses that have been erected are but shells, at best, and fuel is scarce and high. And now that winter is coming on, the suf-fering among the thousands who are still living in tents is very severe by reason of the fierce and cutting winds. "What the poor fellows will do when real winter comes," said one of the party, "God only knows. It's bad enough now; but when the season once closes in the suffering must necessarily be terrible." The men composing the party, seven in number, had lost every dollar and many of the effects that they took with them to Oklahoma, but expressed themselves as glad to get away with their health unimpaired, saying that much sickness prevails there.

THE PREMIER STEEL COMPANY.

Refitting the Indianapolis Rolling-Mill for Work During the Coming Year.

The work of refitting the Indianapolis Rolling-mill, at the corner of Merrill and South Tennessee streets, for the use of the Premier Steel Company, will be begun during the present month. Messrs. Samuel Morris and Thos. S. Blair, jr., of Pittsburg, the latter consulting engineer, registered at the Bates House yesterday, and Mr. Blair stated that they hoped to have the establishment in readiness for work by the 1st of next January. The plant will be arranged and operated by the open hearth process, and is likely to be a valuable addition to the industries of the hearth process, and is likely to be a valuable addition to the industries of the city. The new company, which was incorporated last Monday, has for its directers N. T. DePauw, C. A. DePauw, A. Dowling, A. Trusler and W. H. Coen, some of whom are already largely interested in iron and steel manufacture, and the capital stock is placed at $1,000,000. Col. John W. Ray said yesterday that the statement heretofore published to the effect that the new company was the Indianapolis Rollingmill Company, re-formed, was a mistake. The latter company remains intact and retains its title to the mill property, the new organization leasing from the old company, the only interest in the latter held by the Messrs, DePauw, who are interested in the new company, being their interest in the DePauw estate, which includes a considerable part of the Indianapolis Rolling Mill Company stock. As to the character and use to be made of the product of the new enterprise, he was not advised. N. T. and C. A. DePauw, who are interested in it already, have extensive steel and iron-works in operation at New Albany, and it is probable will be able to use a good deal of the product. The extent of the steel manufactured here will depend upon the demand, but it is probable that several hundred men will be employed from the start. from the start.

The Evolution of the Slot-Machine. "Did it ever occur to you," remarked a philosopher, on the Circle, yesterday, "that the time is coming when the slot-machine idea is going to revolutionize commerce, and make life a perpetual holiday to those now engaged in its toilsome pursuits? No? Well, consider it a minute. What is to prevent that which is now in the nature of cheery fires and the numerous comforts of a toy from being made the agent of transfer in all commercial transactions? If you can buy chewing-gum, confectionery and acci-dent-insurance tickets by putting money in a slot-machine, why may we not hope even-tually to purchase fuel, clothing, provis-ions, stocks, bonds and all other necessi-ties and superfluities in the same way. It may take bigger machines and more of them, but look at the saving of time, pa-tience and muscle they would bring about. Instead of being tied down to his desk or counter waiting for the small boy who wants an almanac, or the directory borrower, or a possible customer, the merchant could fill up his slot-machines overnight, and opening his doors in the morning, leave slot-machines to run the business while he went forth to enjoy the recreations of the day in the shape of pin-pool, base-ball, fishing and the matinees. No uneasy apprehensions would clog his mind of clerks neglecting their duties while the eye of the employer was removed from them, no visions of till-tapping, wrong change or bad bills would follow him into the haunts of delight to which he happened to have access. Everything would be peace, plenty and prosperity, and when he came home at night, perhaps a little jaded, but nowise discouraged by his day's pleasuring, all he would have to do would be to stock up the slot-machines, put the receipts in his inside pocket and get ready for another batter."

Fortu-nately Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar can be obtained of any druggist, and no hoarseness or cough, however obstinate, can resist its curative operation. Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 minute.

Advice to Mothers. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-

Catarrh to Consumption

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is, therefore, singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might.

every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed danger-ous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.
Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-fail-Each package contains one bottle of the Rad-ical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and an Im-proved Inhaler, with treatise; price, $1.
